At this moment, I suddenly recalled the first time I was abroad the KLM flight from Shanghai. The flight took 11 hour 45 min from Shanghai to Amsterdam. Millions of feeling were running into my brain during the whole flight. I had absolutely no idea how Netherlands looks like although I read a lot about it from Wikipedia, BBC documentaries and National Geography. I had the same feeling for my coming four-year journey in Groningen, more specifically, in UMCG.

By now, I am certain that all my experiences here are valuable and priceless. Everyone knows “achieving a PhD title” is not easy. Only people who have been suffered and eventually survived know exactly what does this mean. The journey is not always encouraging with exciting findings or striking breakthroughs, in fact, most likely your daily companies are disappointments, failures and hard work. As an international PhD student, it is probably more difficult for us to face daily lives with culture shock and language obstacles at the beginning. Personally, there is always not enough for you to prepare before you start a new life in somewhere else. More important, it will be wise to be pro-active, easy-going and hard-working to adapt all the difficulties.

However, my mission certainly cannot be accomplished without you all. Actually, too many to be able to mention them all, for which I sincerely apologize up front.

First of all, I would like to express deepest my gratitude to my promoter Prof. Wijnand Helfrich. Dear Wijnand, thank you very much to give me this opportunity. Without you, certainly I will never become a PhD. Your passion for science and splendid teaching skill always amaze and encourage me to step further. Moreover, you taught me so much I learned a lot of skills about scientific writing and helped me to develop my presentation skills. You really impressed me with your meticulous attitude towards science. I believe in these things what I learned from you will help and remind me in my future career. It is my privilege of working for you and a wonderful opportunity for me to study here. I hope we can keep in touch whenever I am here or after I return to China. You are cordially invited to visit me then.

I would like to express my deep appreciation to my dear co-promoter, Dr. Edwin Bremer. Dear Edwin, your pragmatism, preciseness and the spirit of “never-give-up” always inspire me. In fact, I cannot specify how many things I learnt from you but I am sure that your influence will be always there. Although your “poker face” sometimes “spooks” me, your funny face and deep tenderness are always there for me as well. Thank you for your patience and understanding when I lost my temper. Thank you for your support and excellent problem-solving skills when I need them. Thank you for offering me the opportunity to work with you in coming two years. Once you come to China, please contact me and I will introduce you to the spiciest food I can find for you.

I also would like to say thanks to the assessment committee of my thesis, prof. dr. Hidde Haisma, Prof. dr. Hans Nijman and Prof. dr. Han Moshage. Thank you very much for your time. Thank you for your critical and efficient evaluation of my thesis and suggestions to improve its quality.

A sincere appreciation to China Scholarship Committee (CSC), Dutch Cancer Society and other funds, without their financial support, I certainly will not achieve my PhD in NL.

I would like to express my appreciation to Translational Chirurgie Oncologie (TCO) members. Dear Douwe, thank you for your kindness and warm caring since I came here. Your enthusiasm in scientific research and sense of humor in coping with difficulties influence me to become a better person. I always enjoy our coffee time with discussion on our work and also sharing your cookies with you :p. I hope you and your family will visit my hometown and I will be an excellent guide to you as same as you guided me here. Dear Valerie, thank you for all your help and suggestions in my studies. I admire your honest and modest working attitude from the very first beginning and very happy for you that you embrace your little one. Best wishes for you and your family! Djoke, my dear paranymp, thank you for being a warm and kind company during and after work. I am so glad that we share joyful and struggling moments together along with candies and snacks in our office. Best wishes for you and Martin in Leiden. Dear Peter, thank you for your comments in our group meeting. I am always amazed by your excellent cooking skill and broad knowledge covering different fields. Best wishes for your future. Dear Iris, thank you for your help in my experiments. You are always a very good listeners and gentle friend to me. Besides, it is a pleasure to enjoy radio music with you in day-long experiments. Last but not least, Dear Ilona, thank you for being such a true friend and great working gal in my life. We are so different but share so many similarities in both working and life, including pumpkin pancakes and spring rolls. I am quite certain that you will enjoy your further trip in China, and let's have dinner and drinks in Shanghai :p .

Dear Jurjen, many thanks to you for teaching me biotechnologies when I was a green hand in the lab. Best wishes for your new baby! Dear Hans, a lot of appreciations to you for helping my experiments. Best wishes for your new work! Many thanks to colleagues in surgery research lab, especially Jacco, Jelle, Jenneka, Petra and Susanna for making a nice learning and working place. My special appreciation to Maxi, thank you for helping me in my first year and show me your warm consideration.

My deepest gratitude to all my friends I met in UMCG. Dear Byamba, it is a great pleasure and fortune for me to have you as my flatmate as well as a true friend. Your lovely and thoughtful personality helps me understand the marrow of life.

Especially I will never forget the "trip" to move my sofa bed from IKEA to our apartment. Dear Jacky, thank you for guiding me and helping me when I came to cell culture room as you are the first Chinese friend I met in UMCG. Many wishes for your baby and new life in Italy. Dear Ranran, it is my fortune to know you and then become good friends with you. Your diligence and kindness teach me a lot and we will meet/work together again in Shanghai soon or later. Dear Qi (wang), our friendship started from a bowl of dessert in Lion Bridge and I am lucky to have a friend like you with sense of humor. I am certain that it lasts long enough no matter where we are. Many wishes to you and your son (Pudding~) in USA. Dear Rae, your generosity and kindness always calm me down and I always admire and consider you as a true friend. Good luck to your new working in USA and hope one day I can visit you in Philadelphia. Dear Lydia, you are the most friendly supervisor I met in UMCG and thanks to Rea to introduce each other. Thank you very much for your caring my feelings and cookie receipt! Dear Eesoo, your genuine enthusiasm to science always inspires me and best wishes to your working in Singapore. Dear Liwen (zhang), thank you very much for helping solving my depression when I was just in UMCG. Although we did not communicate a lot, I always know you are a true friend to me. Dear Cheng (chen), I am so glad to meet you and you taught me a lot. Hope I will meet you in Wuhan. Dear Yi (wan), your funny and cheerful personality always make me laugh. You are such a good company and we shall meet in Shanghai. Dear Yu (Lei), I will always remember our trip to Madrid and so much fun we had together. Dear Shengchen (ren), I always enjoy our talks together and best wishes for your further work in UMCG. Dear Jun (Li), I always respect and admire your working attitude and best wishes for your future in Science. Dear Rui (Yan), best wishes for your further working in UMCG and I believe you will finish in time. Dear Sylvi, I always enjoy our little talks in dining room and best wishes for you! Dear Lianghui, I really enjoy our lunch time and I like your personality a lot. May you have a bright future in UMCG. Dear Bin (wang), Naishi (Li), Qi (Cao), Peng (wang), Yingying, Siqi, Tiantian, Zhuoran, Yana, Jiacong, Yuan (Ye), Bin (Liu), thank you for your supporting and helping during my time here and I will cherish our friendship as always.

My sincere appreciations to all my friends I met in stadswerf. Dear Jiasi, we share the same constellation along with all the struggling and difficulties during all our PhD period. You are almost there and I totally believe you will do your best! Jiquan, thank you for being such a caring friend and helping me a lot. I am so happy for you, Zhonghong and you little Kid (HeHe). Millions of wishes for you and your family with a bright future! Dear Jingfeng, although we met a little bit late, we become good friends very fast thanks to all the similarities we share. I will never forget all the fun we had in Greece and all the supporting I got from you in the difficult time. May you find your dream job soon! Dear Yang (zhang), Bo (zhang), Chengyu (shi), Shengchen (tang), Judy, Rongdi (cui), Junpin (Hou), thank you all for everything and may the best future you will have!

My special appreciations to my almost life-long friend, qianfan (zhang). We become friends since we are 14. We were studying in the same class in both junior and high middle school, and we even became PhD students in NL at same time. We together visited a lot of musuems, churches and restaurants in NL. All the time passed, but our friendship grows thicker and thicker.

There are a lot of thanks I would like to express to my previous lab members and my supervisors in China Pharmaceutical University. Thanks to you all, I can make it here today. All the precious experiences I learnt from you help me to be a responsible person and honest reseacher. All the cheerful moments and momories I shared with you help me go through some dreadful and frustrated times in NL.

Last but not the least, these words are for my beloved parents.

My dear Dad and Mom, there are no sufficient words existed in this world to describe my love to you two. Thank you for giving me life to allow me to see this wonderful world. Thank you for educating me to understand honest and justice. Thank you for respecting and supporting my life choices to gain this title here today. You are the biggest treasure I could have and I am always proud for, and I am keeping trying to become the daughter you are proud of. No doubt that all the love I gain from you is the main resource and power to make me standing here today. No doubt you are deserved every credit to these achievement I made in the past and will make in the future.

Although I am a follower to any religious, I do believe I am lucky enough to have you all influence me, help me, and be here with me for this prime time in my life. Therefore, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to you all once again.

It is my deep honor and pleasure to work for/with you, be friend with you, and share my life with you. I will never forget my time here.
